

Job opportunities and internships

Newspaper Tree is looking for a few good journalists to join the team and make this unique project a sustained force for good in our border community of El Paso, TX, Southern New Mexico and Northern Mexico. Newspaper Tree is a non-profit, online newspaper dedicated to investigative and community journalism.

To apply for any of these positions (or send inquiries), please email a cover letter, a resume, three references and a sample of your work (multi-media projects, if possible) to Publisher Louie Gilot at louiegilot@newspapertree.com. For all the paid positions, compensation will be commensurate with skills.

Newspaper Tree is an equal-opportunity employer.

Managing Editor

The Managing Editor is responsible for the realization of Newspaper Tree's journalistic vision to produce reporting that is relevant and meaningful and encourages the public's participation in civic life. The Managing Editor assigns, oversees, edits and publishes the multi-media work of reporters and other contributors.

Qualifications:

- At least 5 years of professional experience in journalism
- Master's degree preferred
- Newspaper editing experience
- Writing skills
- Knowledge of and experience with multi-media technologies
- Commitment to ethical journalism in the community's service
- Knowledge of the El Paso/Juárez region preferred
- Fluency in Spanish preferred

Investigative Reporter

The Investigative Reporter is responsible for producing high-quality investigative reporting in agreement with Newspaper Tree's mission to serve the border community with relevant and meaningful journalism to encourages the public's participation in civic life.

Qualifications:

- Investigative reporting experience
- Bachelor's degree or more
- Excellent writing skills
- Knowledge of and experience with multi-media technologies
- Commitment to ethical journalism in the community's service
- Knowledge of the El Paso/Juárez region preferred
- Fluency in Spanish preferred

Internships

An internship at Newspaper Tree is a unique opportunity for students and others to work with professionals dedicated to both the traditional principles of watchdog journalism and the journalism tools of the future. Internships are unpaid but interns can expect to actively participate in all operations as Community outreach intern, News intern, Multi-media intern, Project intern, and Administrative intern. At Newspaper Tree, interns are put to work!

Interns should be bilingual and familiar with multi-media tools, including social networking. Interns must be over 18.

Internships currently available for the Spring semester. Apply now!